MARMOL RADZINER

INTERIOR DESIGN

MARKHAM ROBERTS INC.

Adroitly blending colors, textures, and diverse furnishings, Markham Roberts brings an erudite all-American sensibility to each project, whether a modernist ski house in Montana or a Shingle Style estate on Nantucket. DESIGN HEROES: Architect Harrie T. Lindeberg and Roberts's mentor Mark Hampton—"one would've had to be utterly clueless not to have learned from him." DYING TO VISIT: Palazzina Cinese in Palermo, Villa Kérylos on the French Riviera, and Doris Duke's Shangri La in Honolulu. New York; markhamroberts.com

ARCHITECTURE

MARMOL RADZINER

In addition to being the go-to architects for revitalizing important midcentury-modern houses, Leo Marmol and Ron Radziner devise robustly modernist buildings from the ground up. DESIGN PHILOSOPHY: "Merging architecture and nature, from the design phase through construction." VIP CLIENTS: Tom Ford, photographer Steven Meisel, musician Anthony Kiedis. RECENT PROJECTS: The restoration of Richard Neutra's Kronish House in Beverly Hills and an outdoor furniture collection for RH Modern. Los Angeles and San Francisco; marmol-radziner.com

INTERIOR DESIGN

MARTYN LAWRENCE BULLARD DESIGN

Seeing the pithy Martyn Lawrence Bullard pop up on television from time to time is always a pleasure, but it's even more fun to see his rooms, which tend toward unabashed Hollywood glamour and Arabian Nights exotica. DESIGN PHILOSOPHY: "Spaces should reflect personality, humor, fantasy, and especially comfort." UP NEXT: A boutique hotel in Istanbul, the renovation of a midcentury Malibu villa for actress Ellen Pompeo, and a monograph from Rizzoli due out in April. Los Angeles; martynlawrencebullard.com
